

Kathleen Gage

SPEAKER, AUTHOR, VISIBILITY STRATEGIST

About Kathleen

Kathleen Gage is a highly seasoned business consultant, keynote speaker, author, marketing strategist and visibility mentor. She is the founder of Vegan Visibility, a marketing and visibility consulting company dedicated to healthy living, compassion for the animals and kindness to the planet.

For nearly three decades, Kathleen has worked in a wide array of industries including high-tech, digital marketing, art, music, publishing, government, healthcare, pet services, environmental, health and fitness, spiritual, and manufacturing to name a few.

Kathleen is the author of over a dozen books, the host of two popular podcast shows, Vegan Visibility and Plant Based Eating for Health, and a highly accomplished content creator.

Having coached and consulted thousands of men and women around the globe, Kathleen has incorporated her passion for business, healthy living, and her love of animals into her product & service offerings.

Kathleen is committed to helping those in the vegan, Plant-Based and green industries and markets gain visibility, influence and revenues in ways that are aligned with their own passions and life's work.

Kathleen is certified in NLP and received her certificate of completion in Plant Based Nutrition from eCornell University in 2019. She is also a Certified Plant-Based Ambassador through weDIDit.Health.

Kathleen's mission is working with those who are clear that the vegan lifestyle is more than a passing faze. It is a way of life.
